Thank you

FOR THE FAITHFUL DEPARTED

O God, bountiful in forgiving, and lovingly desirous of man's salvation, we humbly ask your mercy on behalf of all whom we love—our friends, relatives and benefactors—who have passed from this world, that through the intercession of Blessed Mary ever Virgin and all the Saints you will permit them to come to the full participation of everlasting happiness. Through Christ our Lord. Amen

Sunday's Readings...

Ezekiel is granted a vision of the restored Temple of God, the place of his dwelling. From it flows a wonderful stream that brings with it life. For the Jews, the Temple was the holiest place on earth, a place where God and man drew close to each other, and where God's love and mercy were given through the sacrifices offered on the altar. God's plan for our salvation is fulfilled however in the person of his Son, Jesus. In him, who is both God and man, God comes to his people and is offered on the altar of the Cross to show us love and mercy. From his pierced side flows the stream of blood and water that brings eternal life to the world. St John tells us about both Jesus's concern for the holiness of the Temple and his foretelling of his own death and resurrection. He shows clearly how not only that a holy place must be treated as such, but that he is to be a new Temple: the place where God and man meet and out of which God's mercy flows.

Today we celebrate the Lateran Basilica, the Cathedral of the Diocese of Rome, a church first built near the walls of the city of Rome by the Emperor Constantine in the fourth century.

Every Diocese celebrates the feast of the Dedication of its own Cathedral, since the cathedral is the mother and head of all the churches in the Diocese. The Lateran Basilica, since it is the place where the Pope has his cathedra, or Episcopal throne, is the 'Mother and Head of all the Churches of the City and the World'. On this day we both celebrate and pray for the unity of those churches gathered in communion with the successor of Saint Peter. The marbles and mosaics of the Lateran, which together form a beautiful building, are a sign of the beauty of God's family, the Church, united in worship, the living stones of the temple of the Lord. This is a day to reflect on > < how church buildings everywhere are not just meeting-places, but signs to the world of the Body of Christ in prayer. And we remember too that the living stones include those who have gone before us—both the saints and all the faithful departed. May we all, living or departed, be raised up to share the glorious and eternal worship in God's heavenly temple.

CHRISTMAS CARDS AND GIFTS

St Anne's piety stall stocks cards of course.

In the porches of both churches there are now (and will be more) catalogues from Catholic charities, offering cards and gifts in support of their work. CAFOD World Gifts allow us to buy many wonderful gifts for those in developing countries to help them help themselves. Please consider buying from such worthy causes.

I say, I say, I say...

A bagful of £1 coins and a £20 note got chatting one night in the bank vault. "So", asked the £20 note "been around much?". "We've been all over the place. Last week the Methodist church, before that St Bruno's Catholic church, the Baptist church...". The £20 note interrupted: "What's a church?" . . . ! Boom! Boom!

ST ANNE, Mother of the Virgin Mary, Grandmother of Jesus, blessed are you! Take us by the hand and turn us towards God, the Father, source of love and life; the Son, Jesus the Redeemer; and the Holy Spirit who lives in our hearts.

Pray with us! Pray for us! Intercede for us who are placed under your patronage!

ST JOSEPH, husband of the Virgin Mary, foster-father of Jesus, blessed are you! Guide us to your Immaculate wife and her Divine Son, that fathers may be as loving as you, mothers as cherished as Mary and children kept as safe as the infant Jesus in your care.

Pray with us! Pray for us! Intercede for us, who are placed under your patronage!
